NEGRO BURNED AT STAKE SLAYING OF PATROLMAN IS HORRIBLY AVENGED

YOUNG AERONAUT FATALLY INJURED

Lands In Swell Dining Room and Fractures Skull.

Atlantic City, Aug. 14.—Charles Bennett, 20, of Newark, a parachute jumper, was fatally injured here when he was plunged through the costly skylight over the dining room of the Marlborough-Blenheim, sustaining a fractured skull and bad cuts and bruises. He was picked up by guests who had been seated at dinner, carried down stairs and rushed to the city hospital, a block away. Doctors say he can not recover.

TAKEN TO SCENE OF CRIME

Fiends In Human Form Pile Straw Over Mattress and Apply Match. Speechless From Self-Inflicted Wound, Negro Writhes In Pain and Three Times Leaps Fence With Bed Strapped to His Back. Is Beaten Back With Fencerails.

Coatesville, Pa., Aug. 14.—Battering down the doors of the Coatesville hospital, a mob of 400 men dragged out Ezekiel Walker, the negro charged with the murder of Special Policeman Rice, carried him half a mile, manacled to his cot, and burned him alive. The lynching was accomplished only after the negro, mad from pain, had leaped from the blazing pyre built over him and tried to escape, dragging the bed, to which he was bound by his handcuffs. A crowd of 2,000 watched the mob leaders beat the man with fence rails and force, him, shrieking, back into the flames. Three times he bounded up and three times was thrust back, until finally the quivering body fell into the fire.

Only then was the mob satisfied. The masked men walked back to the town and a half hour later they had dispersed as rapidly as they had gathered.

A crowd of 400 men with handkerchiefs over their eyes gathered in front of the hospital. There was no revealing of identities. The men called their leaders "marshal" and each other they addressed as "brother."

Walker was in shackles and bound to a cot in the men's department on the first floor. Policeman Howe had been stationed to guard him. Attendants at the hospital saw the mob gathering and ran to the telephone. There was no response over the wire. The men evidently had cut all wires leading into the building.

Mob Murders on Lawn.

The mob stood muttering on the lawn and in the street in front of the hospital. An ambulance came up the driveway. In an instant the leaders had surrounded it and climbed on the driver's seat. They thought the negro was being hurried away. The patient in the ambulance was not Walker. Lying fastened to his cot in the hospital, he was crying and trembling from head to foot, as each frenzied yell came from the outside.

Assured that the man they were after was still in the hospital, the mob advanced toward the door. For an instant there was a falling back. Some of the leaders stopped midway up the lawn and a few went on alone. A man in white mask, whom the other men had been addressing as "marshal," walked up the steps. He turned and faced the crowd on the lawn. "Men," he shouted, "are you going to allow a white man to be downed by a nigger?"

Those in the rear of the mob surged forward. The others were pushed up toward the hospital steps, and with a wild yell the men stormed the hospital door. They hammered glass out of the windows with their fists. In the corridor of the hospital, Policeman Howe met them with a

Activity At Camp Perry

More Team Arrive to Take Part In Military Matches.

Camp Perry, O., Aug. 14.—The range officers had a busy time. Brigadier General R. K. Evans, the executive officer, called them together and gave them a preachment on the high desirability of being courteous to every contestant. He explained some of the rules covering questions of particular difficulty and then split the officers up into squads of 10 each. In charge of each squad he put a range officer of experience, who forthwith took his pupils in hand for further lessons. The shooting began today.

New arrivals are the teams from Tennessee, Georgia, Iowa, Colorado and the District of Columbia. The teams from the Fort Pitt club, Pittsburgh, also arrived.

Bootleggers Are Victorious

Hogan Decides They Are Entitled to Dow Tax Refunder.

Columbus, O., Aug. 14.—When a man is caught selling liquor in a dry county and is compelled to pay the $1,000 Alkin tax, he is entitled to a refund of part of the tax proportionate to the time he has been in business, just as a saloon man in wet territory, but the refund should be paid only in case the county auditor is absolutely certain that the man has quit business.

This is the gist of an opinion rendered by Attorney General Hogan. The opinion lays stress on the discretion of the county auditor. It holds that he must use his best judgment, and that if he is not reasonably assured that the man has quit business, he need not refund.

Small Dogs Retain Popularity With Society Women as Pets

Photos by American Press Association.

MANY residents of cities have recently been conducting a crusade against dogs on the ground that they are a menace to health because they are subject to hydrophobia. The claim is made that they are likely to develop rabies at any time and that it cannot be known that they are dangerous until too late to prevent the damage they do by biting. Women who own and love dogs poolpooh this theory and insist that their pets are not only harmless, but are just the dearest little dears that ever lived. One of the pictures above shows Mrs. E. S. Allard of Philadelphia with her two Pomeranians, Prince Orson and Dainty Nigger, and the other picture shows Miss Kathryn Levy of Long Branch, N. J., and her Japanese spaniel Togo. The pictures were made at a recent dog show at Long Branch.

Ordinance Forbids Anderson Sewer Expenditure Says Solicitor Rankin

Cleveland Officer Shot By Burglars

However, Puts Gang of Day Bandits Out of Business.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—Stirred to deeds of violence and crime by reading sensational dime novels, and their minds further poisoned by cigarette smoking and an all-consuming admiration of bandits and burglars, the lawless careers of three Cleveland boys ended when they were interrupted while burglarizing a grocery store on the South Side.

Patrolman Ralph Jaeckel, 35, who unexpectedly came in on the boys, was shot through the left lung and is not expected to live. His return fire wounded one of the boys, Jaroslav Koretski, 15, whose death is momentarily expected.

The other two youthful bandits, Fred Mauer, 16, and John Gerlisky, 17, were later captured by detectives.

Bone of Contention at Meeting of Council Last Week

ORDINANCE AND MINUTES

Do Not Correspond and Solicitor Hold Service Director to Ordinance.

City Solicitor Rankin has ruled that any portion of the $2000 borrowed to complete the Market street sewer, etc., cannot legally be used to construct the sewer on East Market street, now known as the "Anderson Sewer," and which was a bone of contention at the last meeting of council.

Members of council contended that it was the will of council that $100 of the amount should be used to construct the Anderson sewer, and $150 for the construction of a sewer back of the McLean property in the alley near the fire department building.

The minutes of the meeting at the time action was taken on the question of borrowing the money, show that it was the will of council that the above amounts be included as set forth. But the ordinance itself is in direct opposition to this, as pointed out by Solicitor Rankin in his holdings.

Service Director Anders intended to construct the sewer, which would

CONTESTANTS ARE BUSY WELL KNOWN PEOPLE ENGAGING IN THE CONTEST

List of Names Will be Published
Thursday--If You Have Not
Entered, Now Is the Best Time.
Do It Now.

(By Contest Manager.)

The interest in the big contest that the Register and Herald have just started is growing rapidly and by Thursday, the first time the names will be published, many candidates will have entered. All the names of persons who will have entered the contest up to noon on Thursday, Aug. 17, will be published in the Washington Daily Herald of that date, also in the Ohio State Register of the 18th.

So far several of the enterprising people of the county have sent in their names, the names of their friends, as candidates. The contest people are endeavoring to see all of them as soon as possible and explain the contest to them in detail, but don't wait for the contest men to see you. Call at the office and get a receipt book and get your friends to subscribe to the Register and Herald, then bring the money to the office and certificate votes that will give you a good start, will be issued to you.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS, DON'T WAIT.

The value of the prizes is such as to justify every man or woman in devoting their time in winning them. A good early start will mean more than anything else toward winning one of the beautiful prizes. The contest will last but seven weeks and during that time some man or woman will win a prize worth $600.00.

Push and energy will count more than anything else. Votes are only had on subscriptions to the Register and Herald, besides the coupons that are running in the papers.

The coupon today is good for 100 votes and will shortly diminish in value. These coupons can be voted only until the date of expiration and must be in the ballot box when the time is up or they will not be counted. Positively no papers will be sold for the purpose of clipping coupons. Votes that are issued on subscriptions are good to be voted at any time. When the subscriptions are turned in, the votes will be issued and delivered to the candidate and they may be polled at that time or held until the close of the race.

The contest will be conducted in a strictly fair and impartial manner and the fullest inspection is courted at all times.

The Register-Herald will assist all candidates in any way possible, but in doing so will treat all alike.

HERE ARE THE PRIZES.

$600 (Schaff Bros.) Player Piano.
$265 (H. Link & Son) Piano.
$200 Circassian Walnut Bedroom Suite.
$125 Diamond Ring.
$75 Diamond Ring.
$40 Haviland & Co. China Dinner Set.

DOUBLE VOTES FOR NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR ONE WEEK.

In order to make the contest doubly interesting at the very start we are going to offer Double Votes for every NEW subscription for 10 weeks or longer which any of the contestants or their friends turn into this office up until Thursday evening, August 17, at 5:30 o'clock.

That is to say each NEW subscriber will count double votes if turned in before 5:30 o'clock on Thursday, August 17. If you get a 10-weeks' subscription you will get 1400 votes or just double the regular number. A 6 months' subscription will entitle you to 3600 votes. But renewals for one year count only the regular number of votes. You can see, therefore, that it will pay contestants to hustle NOW for NEW subscribers for 10 weeks, 6 months, a year or longer.

Double votes will be allowed on all subscriptions to The Ohio State Register for one, two or three years or more.

This is the most advantageous offer and is made to encourage contestants to pile up a great big lead in votes at the very beginning. Don't let this opportunity get away from you. Sign the nomination ballot at the lower left hand corner of the big page announcement, or have a friend do it for you. That will give you 500 votes to start with. You are then right in the contest. Fill out the ballot in the other lower corner of the page, and you have 600 votes. Then get right out and find a new subscriber for a 10 weeks and then you will have 2000 votes. Better still, get him for 6 months, and you will have 4200 votes. Don't you see how the votes will pile up?

But the best thing to do, perhaps, after you have signed the nomination ballot is to telephone to the Contest Manager for a receipt book, which will be sent to you by the first mail. And then very soon one of the Contest Men will see you and tell you just how to proceed to get the most votes and win. But keep right ahead getting new subscriptions and give the receipts afterward.

If you do not understand all about the plan, come to The Herald-Register office and you will find gentlemen who will take pleasure in explaining every detail. Let "Hustle" be your motto and never let up till you win.

WHO ARE ELIGIBLE.

Any lady or gentleman living in Washington or in Fayette or adjoining counties will be eligible to enter the great contest.

HOW TO ENTER CONTEST.

It costs you absolutely nothing to enter the contest. All that is necessary is for you or one of your friends to cut a nomination blank from the Ohio State Register or Washington Daily Herald, fill it out with your name or that of a friend and mail or bring it to the Contest Manager at the Register-Herald office; that will start you in the contest with 500 votes. You may also clip the vote coupons which will be found in this issue and that will count you 100 more votes.

HOW TO GET VOTES.

Your votes in the contest will come mainly from subscriptions to the Register and Herald. Votes are allowed on both new subscriptions and on renewals to the Register and Herald. Votes will be allowed according to the following table:

Anyone taking the Ohio State Register or Washington Daily Herald when the contest started, August 10, 1911, will be counted as an old subscriber. Those who subscribe after that date are counted as new. A subscription will not be counted as new if it is simply transferred from one member of a family to another.

No employee of the Ohio State Register or Washington Daily Herald will be allowed to participate in this contest as a candidate. Votes cannot be transferred from one candidate to another after they have been cast. In case of a tie, the value of the prize tied for will be equally divided between those tying.

WHERE THE PRIZES WILL GO.

The person who receives the largest number of votes in the entire contest will receive the Schaff Bros. Player Piano. The person who receives the second highest number of votes will receive the H. Link & Son Upright Piano with this restriction, that if the player piano is won in district No. 1, the upright piano must be awarded to the opposite district, or vice versa. In this way one of the grand prizes will be won in Washington and one outside of Washington. After the grand prizes have been awarded, the names of the winners will be stricken from the list and the holders of the first places will then be given the prizes known as District 1st prize. The same plan will be used in awarding the District 2d prizes.

Remember, three prizes will be given to each district, and each and every candidate will receive a square deal. One district will not have the advantage over another. District No. 1 will receive a grand prize and two district prizes. District No. 2 will also receive a grand prize and two district prizes.

Address all communications to the Contest Manager, Register-Herald, Washington C. H., Ohio. See the Contest Manager for instructions and all details of the contest.

THE DISTRICTS.

District No. 1 comprises the incorporate limits of Washington C. H.

District No. 2 comprises the county of Fayette outside of Washington and the adjoining counties, including the towns and villages therein.

Still Another One Hails From Sabina

He was a canner, hailing from Sabina, returning on the "Booze Special" from Dayton Sunday night, and had blood in his eye—also a bad grade of booze under his vest. He was drunk and quarrelsome to such a degree that when the "booze special" struck town he was nabbed by the officers and "thrown in" to cool off.

By Monday morning he was cooled off, said his name was Nester Barlow of Sabina. He received $5 and the costs, could not pay it, and secured the assistance of a good friend employed at one of the lively stables, and was able to bid himself homeward.

It is claimed that the trouble on the "booze special" Sunday night was far in excess of the usual amount of trouble, and that there was a continual uproar caused by too much Dayton booze.

Walking Cross- Legged Cost Him "Five And"

Meandering down street, evidently trying to ascertain why his feet would not track, and lifting his hat far above his head in an endeavor to cool his befuddled brain, Ben Bellom of Kokomo, Ind., employed as a molder in this city, was taken in tow by Patrolman Bell Saturday afternoon and escorted to the county jail, where he was given a berth for the night.

Sunday Ben was arraigned before the mayor, given the customary five and costs, which he paid, and was allowed to go on his way, with a light pocketbook and a heavy heart, but sober at least.

Greenfield Man Goes to the Wall

Considerable surprise resulted in Greenfield a few days ago, when Charles Parrett, hardware dealer of that city, filed his petition in bankruptcy, giving his liabilities at $15,000 and his assets at about one-half the amount.

Mr. Parrett was considered a good business man, and his failure is said to be due to the too urgent demands of an impatient creditor, who could possibly have been satisfied if he had been less impatient.

Heavy Downpour Welcomed by All

The heavy rain Sunday night was welcomed by everyone, and in most parts of the county insured a splendid corn crop. The eastern part of the county escaped with a small rain, but the northern, western and southern parts are said to have received a most pleasing downpour, brightening up the pastures and all growing crops.

Ordinance Forbids Expenditures on Anderson Sewer

cost less than $125, and in which there are six taps that would bring $150 into the city treasury. When Solicitor Rankin gave Service Director Anders his opinion on the sewer, that ended the matter, and now Mr. Anderson intends to construct the sewer himself, but whether he will succeed in receiving reimbursement from the city like others who are alleged to have built sewers and received payment from the city, is not known.

Solicitor Rankin's opinion is given herewith in full:

Dear Sir—In response to your request for an opinion as to whether you have the power to contract for what you call the "Anderson sewer," and pay for the construction of the same out of the money recently obtained by the issuance of a certificate of indebtedness, I beg to say:

The ordinance authorizing the issuance of the certificate of indebtedness provides that the money thus obtained shall be used "for the purpose of improving, repair and securing a more complete enjoyment of the Market street sewer and paying the cost of preparing plans and specifications for a sanitary sewer system."

The money obtained by the certificate is appropriated to the purposes above mentioned and to no other and the ordinance provides that the money thus obtained can be used for no other purpose. The Anderson Sewer is not connected with the Market street sewer. No money having been appropriated for the Anderson sewer, no contract can be entered into for it. This is for the reason that no contract can be entered into until the money is in the treasury and appropriated for the purpose for which the contract is to be entered into and a certificate that the money is in the treasury and so appropriated must first be had before the contract is let. Money for the construction of this sewer might be transferred from some other fund by ordinance of council, but until there is some appropriation of the money for this purpose, you cannot lawfully contract for the same. Respectfully,
H. M. RANKIN,
City Solicitor.

London, Aug. 14.—Exchange telegrams from Rome say that the mass was celebrated in the pope's bedroom. His sisters and his niece were present, kneeling at the bedside. The Chillicothe team proved to be no match for the local team yesterday and veritable baseball slaughter was pulled off at Millwood park yesterday afternoon with our boys on the long end of the encounter.

A large crowd was in attendance to cheer the local team on to a one-sided victory. The score:

Concert Company Highly Complimented

The following very complimentary mention of the Washington Concert company appeared in this morning's Ohio State Journal:

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society, the Washington Concert company gave an excellent concert at the Camp Chase Methodist church Friday evening. The company is composed of Misses Bertha Irene Tobin, reader; Claribel Smith, soprano, and Margaret McClure, pianist. While at Camp Chase the members of the company were the guests of Mrs. C. E. Gilliland.

Camp Washington Notes

Monday, August 14.

Sunday was a big day in camp. Many visitors from far and near and the demonstration of the afternoon was a great success. The work began with a salute to the flag and their inspection. Demonstrations of the use of a stalking sticks in climbing a tree, scaling a wall, in making a stretcher. The use of the Morse code of signals, life saving, first aid, etc., made up the demonstration, which was enjoyed by all.

A nice little marching drill by 16 boys was one feature of the drill demonstrations.

On Tuesday the scouts will break camp and return to Washington on the 5:58 C. & M. V. R. R.

There has been no sickness in camp and but one accident, which was slight. Most all the boys are improved in their physical, spiritual and moral natures. The camp has been a grand success and after two weeks of real life the scouts will all be glad to get home to tell of the first scout camp.

In the course of a trial at Waterbury, Conn., the examiner was trying to get the topography of the country and the relative situation of objects. The witness was asked, "Which way does the road run past your house?" The reply was, "Both ways, your honor, up and down."—Case and Comment.

Miss Mary McCoy of Blanchester was Miss Doris McFadden's guest over Sunday.

Wert Scott of Columbus was the guest of his sister, Mrs. E. A. Pine, over Sunday.

Mrs. B. W. Lee and daughter Norma, of Bradner, O., are guests of her sister, Mrs. Albert Dunson. Mrs. Dunson also entertained yesterday Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Halvey of Bloomingburg.

Mrs. G. W. Baker, daughter, Miss Charlotte, and son Damon, with Mrs. Margaret Baughn and little daughter Millicent of South Charleston, returned Saturday evening from a week's motoring trip to Waverly and the Pike county fair.

Mrs. William McClain, who has been visiting her son, Supt. Wm. McClain, and family the past ten days, returned last evening to her home in Johnstown. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Jones of Van Wert were also Supt. McClain's guests Sunday and accompanied her home.

Mrs. Wm. R. Crosier and three children of Higginsville, Mo., are visiting their cousin, Dr. L. M. McFadden and family en route to New Hampshire over the Canadian route. Dr. McFadden met them at Russellville station Sunday and he and his wife are taking them today on a motoring trip through Clinton county. Mrs. Crosier's old home.

One Man Overcomes a Nation.
Jean Angot, who died in 1551, was a French merchant in the African and East Indian trade. When some of his ships had been taken by the Portuguese he fitted out an armed fleet that kept Lisbon blockaded until the government of Portugal indemnified him for his losses. At one time he was immensely wealthy, but he lost in speculations and in money lent to the king of France, and the closing years of his life were passed in destitution.

Washington, Aug. 14. — President

Taft returned to Washington this morning with the veto message upon the New Mexico and Arizona statehood bills stored away in his luggage. It is probable the message will be sent to congress today. Conference with Republican congressional leaders were held this morning, and unless Mr. Taft desires to make some changes in the message following these conferences it will probably be sent direct to congress.

Though no details concerning the text of the message is obtainable now, it is understood to be confined solely to the recall of the judiciary provision of the Arizona constitution. The constitutions of the two states were so closely linked together for political purposes that New Mexico must suffer debarment because of this provision of Arizona's constitution.

The message represents the major part of three days' hard work by Mr. Taft and he has prepared it with the greatest care, revising its text again and again. It is his final word upon the issue of recall for the judiciary, and states his attitude in the most emphatic manner possible. It is quite lengthy and is considerably well spiced throughout, as few questions have stirred the president deeper than that of recall of judges.

Besides the statehood veto message, Mr. Taft during his three days' stay in Beverly has prepared the material for a veto message on the wool bill, which will probably be sent in a few days after the statehood veto.

DEATH OF MRS. EMMA ROWE.

Many friends in Washington and Fayette county will learn with sorrow of the death of Mrs. Emma Rowe at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rose Hostetter, in Los Angeles, Cal., Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Rowe was the widow of the late John W. Rowe and daughter of the late John Orr and leaves besides her daughter, a son, Harry of Canal Dover, one sister, Mrs. Chris Grove, in this city, and two brothers, Mr. Stott Orr of Chicago and Mr. Vance Orr of Nome, Tex.

Until a year and a half ago she made her home with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Eliza Rowe.

Tuberculosis trouble then indicated the need for a change of climate and Mrs. Rowe went to her daughter in California. The change did not effect the hoped for cure and her health continued to fail until the end.

Arrives In Washington After Three Days' Vacation.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MARGARET HESS.

With simple funeral services all that was mortal of Mrs. Margaret Hess was laid to rest Saturday afternoon. A large number of friends had gathered to offer a farewell tribute of affection and regard and the house being unable to hold them, many were seated on the veranda and grounds.

Rev. Hostetter of the Christian church, Mrs. Hess' pastor, conducted the services, assisted by Rev. Campbell of the Presbyterian church.

There was no music, the minister reading the hymns. Rev. Hostetter followed a brief memoir with an appreciation of the deceased. He dwelt especially upon Mrs. Hess' life long devotion to her home, her children and little granddaughter, Aileen, and only second to that was her interest in and love for her church.

With much feeling the pastor spoke of the Christian fortitude which had upheld and paid honor to her unflinching bravery.

A long line of carriages accompanied the family to the cemetery for the burial in the family lot. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. C. Greiner, Hibben Ervin, Frank M. Fullerton, D. S. Craig, E. J. Light, Frank M. Kennedy.

Very beautiful and in great number were the floral remembrances from many friends. Among the special designs was a superb floral blanket from the neighbors from North street to Washington avenue, a floral emblem from the B. P. O. E., and casket sprays from the Hagerty Shoe Co., the W. R. C. and Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, Woodlyn, and Mrs. Willis McCafferty of Mt. Sterling, were here for the services.

Cincinnati and Pittsburg Break Even at Queen City.

Cincinnati, Aug. 14. — Cincinnati and Pittsburg broke even in a double-header. The Reds took the first game, 4 to 0, and Pittsburg the second, 7 to 2, the Pirates winning three out of four in the series. In the first game Gaspar pitched invincible ball, allowing only three hits, while Cincinnati hit Camnitz hard in the fourth inning, getting three runs on two singles, a sacrifice fly and triples by Bates and Egan. Pittsburg hit Smith hard in the second game, and but for two fast double plays the score would have still be larger in favor of the visitors. Leifeld kept the Reds' hits well distributed.

SHUT YOUR MOUTH.

One of our observing citizens, who is given credit for possessing really less common sense than he actually has and uses each day, in talking to another citizen made the remark that Washington's progress, both in a political and business way was greatly retarded by too much talk. In making this observation our wise fellow-citizen had struck the rock bottom of the trouble in many communities.

It's the "wise boys" with plenty of time on their hands who sit around the streets and talk about other people's affairs, who, placing the stamp of truth on idle gossip and dignifiedly place each and every member of the working colony of the city in bad in some particular, who cause trouble. Time has proven conclusively that it is impossible to stop the idler's wagging tongue or close his cavernous mouth, and the only course left is for people who have some work of importance to perform in the world to refuse to heed the talk of those who devote their entire time to that exercise.

These talkers can tell you just what every business man who passes by is going to do politically. They make it their particular business to place every man in the city on all issues and then spread the facts, ascertained from their imaginings, broadcast throughout the community.

That these people should exist in every community is not to be wondered at, but it is astounding that respectable business men will give heed to their prattle. Unfortunately, they do this very thing and enmities are thus created among influential people which cannot result otherwise than disastrously to the city's progress. That responsible men should finally believe evil of their fellowmen solely because of the ceaseless chatter of those who have no responsibility and eke out a miserable existence in some petty position, devoting almost their entire time to talking about other people's affairs, is one of the unsolved mysteries of creation.

The greatest handicap which any city is called upon to overcome is the evil effect of the idler's talk. He runs political campaigns, he determines all public questions and settles all business problems and the most deplorable feature about the whole matter is that by sheer force of persistency in talk he finds listeners and makes converts.

As long as men who have the best interests of their city and their fellowmen at heart, allow themselves to take these talking machines seriously, progress in any direction is barred.

If business men would tell these wiseacres and trouble-breeders to "go and get a reputation first," as Jim Corbett told Bob Fitzsimmons, their capacity for destruction would be very measurably curtailed.

Men are absolutely driven into false positions on many matters of great public concern by the unending chatter of those who make it a business to look after other people's affairs.

CREMATION SLOWLY INCREASING.

Modern cremation originated in 1866. Today, after 45 years of agitation, there are 88 crematories in Europe. Of these, 22 are in Germany, 7 in Switzerland, and 30 in Italy. About 13,000 bodies were cremated in Europe during 1909. In the United States from 1876 to 1900 there were 13,012 cremations recorded. This method of disposing of the dead is growing in favor, says The Journal of the American Medical association, in a recent editorial. In Boston, the substitution of crematories for potter's fields has long been agitated. In New York, the bodies of immigrants dying of infectious diseases at the quarantine station are cremated, unless the surviving relatives have religious scruples against this method. While the advance is slow, cremation seems to be gaining in favor.

After all cremation of the dead bodies seems to be much more sanitary, much more humane and, after all is said and done, when the deep-seated prejudice which custom has created, is removed, the more satisfactory way of disposing of the dead.

Cremation will eventually be the accepted means of disposing of the dead, seems to be the best of opinion.

Laborers Blind to Their Own Interest

By DR. JAMES BANNING of London

The average workingman of Great Britain is greatly in favor of a scheme of insurance against invalidity, so that he will have a support no matter what happens to him.

He has read of the splendid system whereby the German government insures its working class and thinks his own government should do as much. But when it comes to the withholding of a part of his wages as his personal contribution to the insurance fund, the British wage-earner makes a vigorous protest.

In Germany the state, the employer and the worker all contribute, which is a fair proposition, especially as the percentage given by the employee is very small.

Yet the Englishman balks at the enforced levy. He is perfectly willing to pay sixpence to see a game of football, but to be forced to hand over that sum, even when it goes to his own benefit, is a totally different thing, and it will take a campaign of education to teach the people to act in their own interest.

POETRY FOR TODAY

UNSEEN PERILS.

If I had, say a million pounds
(But that, of course, I haven't got)
I'd scour noted college grounds
And hire all the savant lot.

I'd make them tell me why a scratch,
Which formerly we didn't mind,
Is now the bait with which we catch
Dread ailments of a hidden kind.

I'd ask them to explain to me
Just why it is we strike so few
Glad mortals who today are free
To do the things they'd like to do.

You mustn't drink from dippers old;
A fan may cause pneumonia;
And presently we'll all be told
"Beware! of telephonia."

Have you an earache nowadays,
'Twere better you'd a mere void known;
For surgery has witching ways
Of flitting with the mastoid bone.

You must not pour the toothache drop
On cotton soft in doses clear;
Better the pain should never stop
Than you should bring necrosis near.

The 'skeeters' song your ear may clutch
(And many songs are dreamier);
You wake—the bite you mustn't touch,
For fear of septicaemia.

One's stomach, in the fight to live,
Is now like Roman wall that stood
To keep out alien hordes, not give
A harborage to all that's good.

Yet countless hoboos move along—
Vast armies of the Coxeyized—
Why is it that they seem so strong
With none of them peroxidized?

The science pointed out our foe,
And traced the germikin to roost,
I can't help feeling, don't you know,
He's been too widely introduced.
—New York American.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

When the Body Is Tired.

An entire change of occupation will often prove a grateful rest to a busy housewife. When the needle drags and each stitch represents so much concentrated effort, try some other work about the house. Prepare one of the dishes for dinner or luncheon, tidy up the dresser or chiffonier drawers, launder some of the neckwear or pieces of fine linen you do not care to trust in heedless hands, or, best of all, pick up a book or magazine and take the strain away from the tired body by using the mind exclusively for a half hour. At the end of this time you will feel quite as if you had indulged in a long rest, and you will return to the needle with a zest that will mean twice as much by way of accomplishment as did working in a state of fatigue and revolt.

The Whistling Jugs of Peru.

The potters of ancient Peru used to manufacture an ingenious musical instrument which may very properly be called a whistling jug. In collections of antiquities it is called a silvador or silvico. Specimens are obtained from the ancient burial places of Peru. One of these consists of two vases, whose bodies are joined one to the other, with a hole or opening between them. The neck of one of these vessels is closed, with the exception of a small opening in which a clay pipe is inserted, leading to the body of the whistle. The closed neck of this double vase is modeled into a representation of a bird's head. When a liquid is poured into the open necked vase the air is compressed in the other, and in escaping through the narrow opening is forced into the whistle, the vibration producing sounds. Many of these sounds represent the notes of birds; one in the collection at the British museum imitates the notes of the robin or some other member of the thrush tribe, peculiar to Peru.—Harper's Weekly.

A Shave In China.

The Rev. Louis Byrde, a missionary, gives an interesting account in a London paper of a shave in China. He writes: "The greatest treat which I only give on special occasions is a mid-day shave in public. In the early morning a Chinese inn is terribly dark, and at night bed soon claims one. I select a table at the street front (the whole front is formed of movable doors, which are entirely taken away during the day) and, provided with the necessities, commence operations. Fifty or sixty people stand round in ranks, the innermost circles consisting of children and the outer rings of men and mothers with their babes. Not a word is uttered; all eyes are fixed first on the shaving brush as the soap is lathered on the face, and then on the razor as the stubble falls. The Chinese never shave themselves, and possibly to see a man handling a razor on himself may suggest that he is about to commit harakiri in their village."

Bucked the Tiger.

The forest land of southern India possesses a breed of buffaloes vastly superior to the ungainly creatures of the plains. They are shaggy haired and massive, with thick, short horns, and possess immense strength. A herd of these buffaloes was grazing when a tiger came out of the forest near by. The herdsman shouted, beat his staff on the ground and tried to scare away the brute, but it would not be scared and sprang upon him, knocked him down and stood over him snarling. He gave himself up for lost when the bull of the herd charged savagely upon the tiger and knocked him fully twenty feet. The attack was so sudden and the shock so great that it took all the fight out of the tiger. He gathered himself up in a dazed way and actually slunk off into the forest. The bull shook himself, bellowed, pursued his enemy a few yards and then went quietly to feeding as if vanquishing a tiger were an everyday occurrence.

Proud of It.

EVERYBODY'S BIBLE QUESTION BOX

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS WILL BE ANSWERED IN THESE COLUMNS, OR BY MAIL IF SENT TO THE EDITOR OF THIS JOURNAL.

Q.—Is the Scriptural statement, "and there were no more sea," to be taken literally? See Revelation xxi. 1.

Answer.—In the Scriptures the word "sea" is used, not merely as a name for a body of water, but also symbolically, as representing lawless, restless, dissatisfied, discontented humanity. In His great prophecy (Luke xxi, 5-63) our Lord tells us that in the time of trouble, with which the Millennial Age will be introduced, the sea and the waves will roar; and in Psalm xixi, 1-3, is pictured, that the symbolic mountains, or kingdoms, of earth will go down, overwhelmed by the symbolic sea, in an anarchy storm. When once the Messiah's Kingdom shall have brought order out of the present confusion, after it shall have established the world's interests upon a proper basis of equity, there will be "no more sea," in the sense that there will no longer be a restless, dissatisfied element amongst the masses of mankind.

But while many of the prophecies have had both a literal and a symbolic fulfillment, yet we are not wise enough to say whether or not this one will have a literal fulfillment. We feel sure, however, that it will have a symbolic fulfillment as already suggested. Even if the literal sea should continue, we know of no reason why the continents of earth might not be united by the raising of submerged lands to connect them. However, it is best for us not to indulge in speculation along this line, of which we have no absolute knowledge.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY VOTING CONTEST

SEE OUR ELEGANT PRIZES.

Over $1300.00

IN VALUABLE AND BEAUTIFUL PRIZES will be given to wide-awake and worthy young ladies or young men of Washington and surrounding territory in the OHIO STATE REGISTER and WASHINGTON DAILY HERALD'S Great Opportunity Contest, which opens today, Thursday, August 10th, and closes Saturday, September 30th, at 8 o'clock P.M. No other publisher in Ohio ever made so liberal, so tempting and so meritorious an offer to earnest, willing workers. Every one of the six splendid prizes is worth striving for. Some hustling persons are going to get the fine Pianos, Bedroom Suite, Diamonds or China Dinner Set, all elegant prizes that they would get in no other way. It is the opportunity of a life-time—the storied opportunity that comes but once. Take advantage of it. There's not a lady or gentleman who would not be delighted with one of these presents. Why not win one of them? You can if you will. The OHIO STATE REGISTER and WASHINGTON DAILY HERALD have offered the opportunity. They have done their part. Will you do yours?

First Grand Prize

$600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano

The first prize in the contest will be a $600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano, and it will be given to the contestant who receives the most votes during the contest.

This Instrument was purchased of J. A. Smalley, the local piano dealer, and will be on exhibition in the storeroom on West Court street next door to the T. C. DeWees gallery.

The WARRANTY on this superb instrument is absolutely UNLIMITED, and the winner of this beautiful prize can rest assured that he or she will receive an instrument that will stand the test of time.

The case is of double veneered mahogany, lined with maple. The carvings are all done by hand and are very artistic. It is the most simply constructed player on the market, one lever acting for the tempo, start, stop and rewind. The tone of this instrument has strength of character and individuality, expressed by its great volume and artistic quality. Through reason of the careful manufacture this instrument is durable; it has lasting qualities, the ability to stay in tune and to retain its initial tone.

This prize will beautify any home in Fayette county and the fortunate winner can always look upon it with pride. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street, next door to T. C. DeWees' photograph gallery, after next Tuesday, and examine this prize.

Second Grand Prize

$265 Link & Son Piano.

The second prize in the contest will be a $265.00 H. Link & Son Upright Piano. This instrument is manufactured by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ills., and Huntington, Ind., and is named after Mr. Link, who for many years was the general manager, secretary and treasurer of the Schaff Bros. Co., which is one of the oldest and wealthiest companies manufacturing Pianos in America.

The case of this instrument is of double veneered mahogany, and lined inside with maple. The action is light and so perfectly balanced that the slightest touch will meet with instant response. The tone has strength and is soft, mellow and sympathetic.

This Piano has many good features that are to be found in no other Piano, and which makes it known the world over as an instrument of quality.

It was purchased of J. A. Smalley, and will be on exhibition at the store room next door to the DeWeese photograph gallery in a very few days. Call there and see the splendid prize and be convinced that it is exactly as advertised.

DISTRICT FIRST PRIZE

$200 Bed Room Suite

In Circassian Walnut, consisting of one standard sized Dresser, one Chiffonier with five large drawers, and one Bed with the new style roll top head and foot boards.

This suite would adorn a palace. It is a prize that will stand the test of time. It will ever be a thing of beauty, fit to hand down to children and grandchildren as an heirloom of Twentieth Century art.

This prize can be seen at the store of The Fayette County Hardware Co., where it was purchased. This firm's well known reputation for square dealing is a sufficient guarantee that this beautiful prize is all that is claimed for it.

DISTRICT SECOND PRIZE

This eighty-piece genuine Haviland China Dinner Set, which was purchased of S. S. Cockerill & Son, will be awarded as the District Second Prize.

Haviland & Co., the makers of this beautiful ware, and S. S. Cockerill & Son, the local dealers, guarantee each piece in this set to be absolutely perfect in every way. Each piece bears two stamps. The green one shows that the body of the article was made by Haviland & Co., while the red stamp is a guarantee that the decorations are also a work of this wonderful factory. When examining these dishes please note that they bear both the green and red stamps.

This ware is beautifully decorated in gold, and each piece has been kept free from water so that the monogram of the owner may be put on if desired. The set consists of the following articles: 12 Dinner Plates, 12 Pie Plates, 12 B. and B. Plates, 12 Teas and Sauces, 12 Fruit Saucers, 1 meat Platter, 1 Footed Salad Dish, 1 Baker, 1 Sauce Boat, 1 Covered Sugar and 1 Creamer, forming a prize that will not only be appreciated by the winner and admired by all her friends, but that is as good as money will buy.

DISTRICT FIRST PRIZE

$125 Diamond Ring

This ring was purchased at the store of C. A. Gossard & Co, who guarantee it to be a pure and flawless stone. If C. A. Gossard & Co. added not one word of assurance, this beautiful little gem would speak for itself.

The perfect color, correct cut and proportion give it the scintillating brilliancy that comes only in the perfect stone. It is a gem no better than which adorns the hand of royalty—it is a prize that any young lady may well strive for.

To the energetic woman who wins it, this beautiful gem will be as a legacy in the bank. Its value is eternal and can never grow less. The person who wins this prize is not required to take the ring which we have selected, but CAN HAVE THE CHOICE OF ALL $125 DIAMONDS in the store of C. A. Gossard & Co.

DISTRICT SECOND PRIZE

$75.00 Diamond Ring

This stone, purchased of W. H. Hettesheimer, Jeweler, is not quite as large as the diamond offered as the District First Prize, but it a good sized gem, perfect in color and absolutely flawless. It has a Tiffany setting, and will make a splendid prize for some worthy young lady.

W. H. Hettesheimer guarantees this ring to be exactly as it is here advertised, and the person who wins it can have their CHOICE OF $75 DIAMONDS IN HETTESHEIMER'S store.

Young ladies, here is a chance to secure that coveted diamond. Perhaps you may never have the opportunity of getting another. Some person is going to be the proud possessor of this valuable prize. Why not you? It will not cost you a cent.

Franklin County Officer Takes Fugitive Prisoner Away Wanted on Serious Charge

Friday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Allison of Columbus arrived in this city and removed Peter Ross, alias Peter Burgundy, the man arrested by Detective Kennedy of the B. & O. force, on August 4.

Deputy Sheriff Allison stated that Burgundy had committed criminal assault upon a young girl in Columbus, and has been a fugitive from justice for some little time. His crime is said to be one of the most brutal and heinous committed in Columbus for a long time, and he will probably receive the limit for his offense.

Burgundy was an Italian, and previous to his arrest had been employed in a gang of workmen who are constructing a piece of double track on the B. & O. just this side of Cincinnati.

He admitted that he was the man and went with the officer without any trouble. Burgundy was arrested for jumping trains and resisting an officer, and was being held until the fine could be paid by his friends.

Election Board Is Reorganized Gregg Secretary

The County Board of Deputy State Supervisors of Election met this morning and organized for the coming year. A. C. West was reappointed as the Republican member for a term of two years and S. A. Murray was reappointed as the Democratic member for the same term.

The terms of W. B. Rogers, Democrat, and E. S. Seeborn, Republican, do not expire until next year.

The board this morning organized by choosing S. A. Murray as chief deputy and George A. Gregg as clerk. The former succeeds A. C. West and the latter Horace Ireland. For the last three years Ireland has been clerk, succeeding in that position the man who now succeeds him.

Under the law the board in its organization proceeds first to the selection of a clerk, which is done by chance, the names being placed in a hat and drawn out at random, the first one drawn is declared the clerk. The chief deputy is then chosen from the opposite political party to that from which the clerk was chosen.

During the last five years Mr. Gregg and Mr. Ireland have been the only candidates for clerk and Dame Fortune has smiled three times on Ireland and twice on Gregg.

At the meeting it was also agreed that the division of Madison township into two voting precincts, should be granted, as prayed for by the petitioners, but fixing of the line between the two precincts was postponed until later.

Aviator at Greenfield Wins in International Meet

C. P. Rodgers, whose aeroplane flights were the most interesting events of the Greenfield Chautauqua, won third in the endurance contest the opening day of the International aviation meet in Chicago. He remained up two hours and one minute.

Mr. Rodgers was undecided when in Greenfield as to whether he would enter the international contests. He is entirely independent, owning his own car and under no contracts. He purchased one of the Wright brothers' cars at a cost of $5000 and pays them a royalty of $100 every time he makes a flight for money.

Seized With Fits Dog is Killed

Saturday evening a dog, belonging in this city, was seized with fits in front of Little Duffey's grocery on Main street, and attracted the attention of several dozen persons who gathered about to watch it. Some held that the dog had been chasing automobiles until it was overcome with heat, but it was deemed best to take no chances on the animal, and Officer Hill dragged it down the alley and put an end to its sufferings.

Whether the animal was mad, poisoned or overcome with heat, is not known, but passersby breathed more freely when the brute was safely out of their path.

F. A. Myers, a moulder, residence unknown, but at the present time employed in this city, was picked up by Patrolman Haggard just after he had stepped from the northbound C. & D. from Chillicothe Monday morning, having missed the evening train and dropping in a day late.

Myers was so drunk he did not know which way to go, but had started up the railroad track toward the shoe factory, when Haggard hailed him, placed him in a buggy and locked him up in the county jail until he was sober enough to plead.

Ecuador Revolutes Once More

Change of Government Effected With Slight Friction.

Washington, Aug. 14.—A revolution overturned the government of Ecuador on Aug. 11 with comparatively little formality, according to a dispatch received at the state department from Evan R. Young, American minister to Ecuador. President Alfaro, Mr. Young said, was deposed, and took refuge in the Chilean legation. The movement was in behalf of President-elect Estrada, who is expected to arrive at Quito shortly. The president of the senate organized a provisional cabinet and is acting as president. The capital, Minister Young added, is quiet and orderly.

Negro Burned at Stake

drawn revolver. He fired two shots, but the mob did not notice it. They brushed the policeman aside and pushed away the hospital attendants, who tried to interfere.

Walker lay helpless on his bed in the right wing of the hospital. Into the ward the leaders rushed, other patients fainting and screaming from fright. Someone produced a rope. They tied this around the shackled negro, fastening him to the cot, winding the rope about his feet and underneath the bed. Then a score of men laid hold of the rope and ran down the corridor. Out of the hospital they dragged the bed and the negro with it.

Could Make No Outcry.

Walker couldn't make an outcry. His self-inflicted bullet wound in the mouth had made this impossible. His eyes glared in his terror. The negro's bed turned and rolled, the manacles and ropes digging into his flesh.

The crowd outside the hospital gave a cheer when their leaders came out. Out over the lawn they ran to the street. Chief of Police Olmsted tried to rush through the crowd to aid Policeman Howe, but he was shoved back into the street.

Outside the hospital grounds, the men with the rope started down the road on a dead run. The cot bumped over the roadway and rolled from side to side. The howling mob, now increased to 1,000 persons or more, followed. A half mile to the south, the men with the rope stopped, just opposite the place where Edgar Rice, the policeman, was shot the night before.

The men began to scatter in all directions and bring fence rails to where the negro lay bound. Brawny arms pitched the negro and his cot over a fence into a field on the farm of John Newman. Others ran here and there and brought back armloads of hay and straw which they laid picked up from the fields.

Pile Hay Over Cot.

They piled the hay about and over the cot and Walker. Someone touched a match to the mattress and soon the cot was ablaze. Others piled fence rails over the negro. Walker writhed and struggled against the shackles which bound him to the bed. Suddenly he gave a leap out of the blazing hay. Before the men about the fire realized it, Walker had leaped over the fence with the bed roped to his back.

The crowd gave a yell. Men with fence rails shoved the bed and the negro back into the blazing hay.

Three times did the negro try to escape in this manner. Each time the men with the fence rails shoved him back into the fire. The third time the flesh was hanging from the negro's bones.

Walker was caught in the woods and was freed by the posse. Seeing that he was surrounded, Walker pulled a gun and shot himself through the mouth. He fell to the ground and was carried a mile to an automobile. When he reached the police station he begged the officers to kill him.

THE TOUCHSTONE.
"What do you consider the first sign of advancing age?"
"Getting mad when anybody calls you old."

URGES ONE-DISH MEALS.
In an address made before a gathering of prominent women recently a Kansas City food specialist strongly advocated a one-dish diet as a means of reducing fat. "That is," he said, "at no meal should more than one dish be eaten. The dish may be what you will, Irish stew, macaroni and cheese, roast beef, bacon and eggs or vegetable soup, but no other courses must precede or follow it. You may eat as much as you please of that one dish and yet you will lose weight steadily."

HIS GOOD JOB.
Woody Alfred—"I had a job that suited me once."
Frazzled Pete—"Impossible. What was it?"
Woody Alfred—"Lineman for a wireless company."

SHOULD BE EASY.
Teacher—"Willie, have you made out that list of the nine greatest men in history?"
Willie—"Almost. I can't pick out the best catcher, though, to save my neck."

Wisdom.
Griggs—"They say that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world."
Briggs—"Yes, but the hand that rocks the boat, gets into the headlines much more frequently."

Sanitary.
Health Officer—"Do you always wash your hands when you mix the dough?"
Baker—"Vor sure yet; you dink I goes 'round mit dat dirty flour suckin' on me; you bed I wash mine hants."

Angel Cake.
Take three angels, being careful that they are strictly fresh. Remove the left wings and the barbs. Simmer gently, and sprinkle with star-dust. Stir in two or three silver-lined clouds, and bake in the sun.

Devil Food.
Four measures of five-cent booze. Two quarts champagne. Three whist clubs. An ounce of matrimony, well pulverized. The best parts of six politicians, sprinkle with powdered respectability, and serve hot.

"What would you do, dear, if I were to die?" asked Mr. Darley fondly.
"I don't know," replied Darley thoughtfully. "Which is your choice—burial or cremation?"—Tit-Bits.

"Send me up two bags of oats and a bale of hay."
Voice—All right, sir. Who is it for?
"The horse, of course, you idiot!"—London Globe.

So Convenient.
No other name
To Burbank's fame
Could ever hold a candle,
If that wise gent
Would but invent
A melon with a handle.

Auto Literature.
"Then you don't care for this new motor novel?"
"Can't say I do. It reads to me like a repair catalogue with a slight plot to it."

Somewhat Prepared.
"I think that young man is a candidate for your daughter's heart."
"Yes," assented the indulgent father, "and I believe he'll win out. I look for a notification committee any day now."

WANTED A TRIP.
"Jack is proposing to me over the phone and he says he'd go to the ends of the earth for me."
"Say, Sis, ask him if he'll take you to Europe on a honeymoon then and take me along."

Forewarned is Forearmed
In reality matrimony is only a stage of evolution. It develops whatever is best or worse in men's and women's natures. It doesn't give them an entirely new set of characteristics. Whatever a girl is before marriage she is going to be after marriage only a little more so, for marriage is a mordanant that sets the color of a woman's nature, and this enables any man to forecast with sufficient reasonable accuracy the sort of a wife a woman will make from the kind of a girl that she is.
Every man, for instance, prays to be delivered from a jealous and nagging wife, but he looks to his guardian angel to preserve him instead of depending on himself.
Yet the matter is absolutely in his own hands, for a hunchback woman could easily conceal her deformity from the green-eyed woman he is jealous of. If, therefore, you are engaged to a girl who has fits and hysterics every time you notice another woman, and who can't accept a reasonable explanation of why you should have taken some old woman friend to lunch, or why you walked up the street with some good comrade girl that you work with in the office, why, son, be warned in time. Break off your engagement with that girl before you let yourself in for a lifetime of misery.
She will make the sort of wife that will keep you in terror all your days and that you will have to lie to and deceive until you hate her and have a contempt for yourself. She will go through your pockets after you are asleep looking for letters from women, and sniff at you clothes to see if they smell of perfume and if there is any poudre de riz on the lapel of your coat, and she'll be forever popping in to your office to see what you are doing, and you won't dare to employ a stenographer that is under sixty-five and bald and with false teeth.
Jealousy doesn't develop suddenly. Like appendicitis. It's a chronic complaint that is constitutional with some women, and it's an incurable malady. So pass up the maiden who gives unmistakable signs that she is afflicted with it.
Every man, likewise, has a horror of getting a wife who is a domestic tyrant. And well he may, but it is his own fault if he does. Just take a good, long squint at Angelina in her own home, son, and see whether she bosses her family. If she rules the roost and her mother looks at her before speaking and her little sisters and brothers keep in the background when she is about, duck and run, though you were on the very steps of the altar, unless you feel that you would actually enjoy being heckled.
The girl that can run her own family can run a husband with one hand tied behind her. In marrying her he hasn't even got a show for his little alley, and he will spend the balance of his life eating what she thinks is good for his digestion, going to the church she approves of, visiting her family and friends and wearing the neckties that she picks out.
Every sensible man also desires to avoid marrying a woman who is extravagant and unduly fond of dress. He can blame nothing but his own stupidity if he marries one. Every woman wears a price tag on her clothes that proclaims whether she is a good bargain as a wife or not. When a man deliberately picks out a girl that looks like a living fashion plate, and that he knows is dressed far beyond her means, what right has he to complain if, in time, he grows as humpshouldered trying to pay bills as her father did? He had his warning, and he refused to take it.
Every man desires a wife who will be companionable and sympathetic and understand the things that he does. Are there not a thousand ways to test out whether a woman is broad and intelligent or narrow brained and prejudiced before you are tied to her for life?

I know one wise youth, a man of heart and soul, who was very much taken with an extremely pretty girl and on the verge of popping the question to her. Fortunately for him, just before he took the fatal step, he invited the girl to go with him to see a play that swept the whole gamut of the finer emotions. The man's heart was wrung with its pathos, and his throat choked with the passion of it, but the girl sat up absolutely untouched and unmoved, her eyes as dry as at a baseball game.
The man took her home and simply dumped her at her front door, and never went near her again. "Why, she is a stick, a stock, a stone," he said to me, "I would rather be dead than married to a woman that couldn't understand a play like that."
If I were a man I would never marry any woman until I had been on an excursion with her, or on a camping expedition. If I found a girl who could be as entertaining and agreeable at breakfast as she was at dinner; who looked as neat and attractive in her shirt waist and skirt as she did in a ball gown; who could take missing a train, or a rainy day with good-natured philosophy instead of acting as if the misadventure were a personal grievance; if she was cheerful, and helpful, and unselfish, and a good com union and a good fellow under all circumstances, I'd keep on that girl until I persuaded her to marry me. For I would know that I had her number, and that it was a winning one every time.
But if she was selfish, and selfsh, and exacting, and didn't know how to do anything, and expected everybody to wait on her, she'd never lure me up to the proposing point, not even if she was as beautiful as Venus, and was stacked up to her neck in gold.
Oh, you don't have to be a prophet, nor the son of a prophet to tell what kind of a wife a girl will make. She carries her sign about with her, if a man will only take the trouble to read it.
RASPBERRY ICE.—Boil together for five minutes one-cupful of water and one-cupful of sugar, strain and cool. Add the strained juice of one lemon and one pint of raspberry juice and freeze.
HIS SACRED HONOR.
"Darling!" he cried, catching her in his arms.
"Stop!" she said, struggling to free herself. "You have no right to treat me in this way. You are a married man."
"But, listen, sweetheart, I love you. I have loved you ever since the moment in which I first—"
"Don't! Don't!" she begged, still struggling to free herself. "You are wronging your wife—you are wronging me when you compel me to hear you say such things. Let me go—please! You are dishonorable. You are!"
"Say that I may hope to win your love and I will promise to get a divorce as soon as I can."
"Truly?"
"I promise it, upon my sacred honor."
"Well—then I suppose it would be foolish to deprive ourselves of the happiness we might have in the meantime, wouldn't it, dearest?"—S. E. Keiser.

FELL AMONG THIEVES.
And the Old Man Didn't Know Which Set Was the Worst.
An old man from rural England with his wife was on a holiday in London and decided on an evening at a theater. He looked up the advertisements in the papers and selected a house where "All Baba and the Forty Thieves" was being played. It was a "cheap" house, the price of stalls being given as two-and-sixpence. The farmer was surprised, however, on arriving at the box office to be met with a demand for six shillings for the two tickets. The extra sixpence per seat, it was explained, was for booking. Then he was called upon to pay sixpence for a program, and the female attendant who showed him to the seats also asked for sixpence, in addition to which there was a shilling to be paid for hats and coats being taken care of in spite of his protest that they could take care of them themselves. A footstool was brought for his wife and was accepted without suspicion that it would be charged for, but the attendant who brought it demanded another sixpence, and finally opera glasses were handed to them and payment of another sixpence requested. Then the farmer went in search of the manager and, finding him, said in a tone of deepest disgust: "You may do what you like with these tickets. There are so many thieves in front of the house that we don't think we want to see the forty on the stage!"—London Answers.

HARNESS RACING AT STATE FAIR

Fifteen Events With Purses Aggregating $11,000.

Lovers of the race horse and the horse race have been especially well provided for this year. Fifteen great harness events have been scheduled for the five days of the meeting, with purses aggregating eleven thousand dollars. This will be sure to bring out hundreds of the fleetest trotters and pacers in the country. These races may be witnessed without encountering any of the objectionable features which sometimes obtain at other race meetings.

Farm Boys Camp.
One hundred farm boys will assist in the management of the fair this year, their expense for the entire week being borne by the State Board.

Those who desire to participate in the great privilege should see the Secretary of their County Agricultural Society at once, and learn what is necessary to qualify for these positions.

Numerous Improvements
The Ohio State Fair, which now might more properly be designated an exposition, has grown to such magnificent proportions that almost any expense would be justified in equipping it to handle its great exhibits. This year no less than $100,000 has been expended for enlarged buildings and other permanent improvements. The most beautiful amusement parks in the country do not excel the Ohio State Fair grounds, which has become a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

The fair will be open day and night this year. Each night's program will close with a stupendous $5,000 fireworks display, depicting Perry's Victory on Lake Erie.

EXTENSIVE DISPLAY OF AUTOMOBILES

Complete Show of Modern Machines at Ohio State Fair.

The automobile show at the coming Ohio State Fair, Aug. 28 to Sept. 1, is attracting wide attention. Leading manufacturers have engaged space. One entire building will be devoted to these displays. Not only will visitors be able to view the finished car, but a moving picture show will be installed that all may familiarize themselves with the manufacture of the modern machine; 10,000 feet of film required in this production. The pictures are most interesting. Vividly they present the minute details of the different processes of manufacture.

ENTERING THE GATES—OHIO STATE FAIR.

It is almost impossible to give an adequate idea of the realistic panorama that the films present. At the outset one sees the pig iron being wheeled into the receiving bins and then is presented the chemists at work testing the steel for carbon, sulphur and manganese. Next is seen the heat tests and then the foundry and drop forging departments in full operation. Following these are the heat tests and the tests for tensile and twisting strength. Then comes the machine shop and the automatic tool room, where the use of special jigs multiplies the efficiency of one man 70 fold.

Step by step the work goes on until the assembling room is reached and the factory inspection of completed parts begins. Piece by piece the car grows until ready for the road tests which are vividly portrayed. Then comes final inspection and the complete car looms up, a monument to modern engineering and production science.

GRANGE REUNION.

State Master T. C. Laylin announces that the annual reunion of Ohio Patrons of Husbandry will be held on the State Fair grounds, Wednesday and Thursday, August 30 and 31. The members will meet in beautiful Grange Hall. An interesting program will be arranged. Hon. Olive Wilson, Lecturer of the National Grange, will be present both days, and address the patrons. The present year has proven a banner one for the order, and Master Laylin desires a full attendance, that its success may be fittingly celebrated.

A hearty welcome extended to all. The State Fair this year will far excel all previous exhibitions. Many educational innovations will be introduced. Entertainments and amusements galore will prevail. Every member of the order urged to make arrangements to attend.

STATE EXHIBITS.

Instructive and educational exhibits from the various State Institutions will be featured at the Ohio State Fair. The average man pays little or no attention to the inner workings of our penal and charitable institutions. Of the former he pictures the horror of a Siberia. Of the latter he is too much engrossed with his own affairs to give it the thought it deserves and should command from every citizen. He is quick to criticize without being familiar how the institution is conducted and the effort that those in charge are putting forth for the welfare of the inmates. Two years ago state institutions made their first exhibit at the State Fair. Visitors were amazed at these displays, as generally they had no conception of the output of their schools and workshops. It was a grand school of learning. The exhibits vividly portrayed the good these institutions were accomplishing. Those in charge were the recipients of many compliments. These institutions belong to Ohio. They are supported by public funds. Their manufactures form a prominent part of our State Exposition. They are brought there for your inspection. From them you can judge as to whether the administration of these institutions is in good hands. It is your privilege and duty to ascertain what the state is accomplishing for its wards. The State Fair will be held in Columbus, August 28—September 1. Pay it a visit. Inspect the state exhibits. Ask questions of those

MANY SOLDIERS BUY RELEASE FROM SERVICE

No Easy Matter to Secure Discharge After Joining the Ranks.

WASHINGTON, (Special).—The recent case of George Curry, the United States soldier who sought his release from a $13 a month job in the army in order that he might accept an offer of $200 a month to play ball with the St. Louis American team, has turned attention upon the procedure necessary for a soldier to throw off the burden of military discipline.

It is not generally known that the War Department permits hundreds of soldiers annually to purchase their release from the army before their enlistment terms have expired. So numerous are the applications for this relief that a regular scale of prices, depending upon the length of service, has been drawn up.

This is allowed only in time of peace, however. In case of war, all applications for discharge would be refused.

No applications for discharge by purchase are entertained unless the applicant has served at least one year in the army. The price of discharge after one year's service is $120. The figure then decreases with each year of service, as follows: two years, $100; three years, $90; four years, $85; five years, $80; six years, $65; seven years, $60; eight years, $55; nine years, $40; ten years, $35; and after 11 years, $30. Thirty dollars is the minimum.

Soldiers buying their discharges from the army must also sacrifice any and all travel allowances due on discharge.

In cases where it is shown that the soldier has relatives or others dependent upon him, that he has made contributions to their support from his pay, and that these are insufficient for their maintenance, the purchase price may be remitted.

Many cases of this sort are encountered, especially where a soldier has entered the army without any one dependent upon him and subsequently, through deaths or otherwise, he becomes the only source of support of relatives.

It is not the policy of the department to grant discharges by purchase when there is any special reason in his case to the contrary, or when there is a trifling reason, or no reason at all, in support of his application.

LACE MAKERS SUFFER THROUGH IMITATIONS

Paris (Special).—About 200,000 poor hand-made lace makers of France are threatened with destitution on account of the well high perfect imitations made on machines and put on the market at low prices.

A society headed by prominent French women may be formed to boycott merchants selling machine-made lace as hand-made, a common thing in France.

A case is quoted of a woman paying $40 a yard for supposed "point d'Alecon" which, when sent to makers of this sort of lace, was found to be all machine-made save the border. The machine was arranged so as to drop stitches at regular intervals and to make other light imperfections noticed in hand-made product.
